

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and system for managing an objectives-based business plan. Major objectives are defined according to one or more parameters and are stored in a first database. Based on the major objectives, minor objectives are defined according to one or more parameters. The minor objectives are stored in a second database. Then, the major objectives and the minor objectives are managed according to the method and system of the present invention.

TECHNICAL FIELD